About

Overview

Chinyen Ho is a Senior Partner with over a decade of experience in commercial litigation, dispute resolution, and criminal investigations. He is a trusted advisor to both Taiwanese and multinational companies, specializing in high-stakes litigation, including corporate fraud investigations and cross-border contract disputes. Chinyen's in-depth knowledge of Taiwan's judicial system and corporate operations has made him a key figure in handling complex legal challenges across multiple industries.

Chinyen has successfully represented clients in several high-profile cases. Notably, he led the defense in a $46 million USD litigation involving Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc. and has represented Carrefour in retail-related disputes in Taiwan. His experience also includes managing multimillion-dollar cross-border disputes, such as a $17 million USD commercial contract dispute between a French company and a Taiwanese entity.

In addition to his litigation work, Chinyen advises clients on criminal investigations and regulatory compliance, focusing on corporate fraud and white-collar crime. His expertise in handling cross-border legal matters, coupled with his ability to work across jurisdictions, makes him a valued partner for clients navigating international regulatory frameworks.

Chinyen's comprehensive approach to legal matters, combining rigorous legal analysis with business-oriented solutions, ensures that his clients receive effective, strategic representation in every case. He remains actively involved in Taiwan's legal community, contributing to the advancement of intellectual property law and other areas of legal practice.
